What is School Readiness?

School readiness is a measure of the child's ability to use the necessary developmental skills which will facilitate a smooth transition to primary school which will then enable them to participate and succeed in school.

Does my child have the skills to be ready for school?

School readiness skills do not only refer to academic (literacy and numeracy skills) but the overall developmental skills of your child—their social, emotional, adaptive functioning ability, play, physical-motor, communication and cognitive skills.

Our Focus

- Social Emotional Development
- Academics
- Adaptive Skills
